
What I know about girls

Posted by Phad - 2008/05/19 17:18

When a GIRL is quiet ... millions of things are running in her mind.

When a GIRL is not arguing ... she is thinking deeply.

When a GIRL looks at u with eyes full of questions ... she is wondering how long you will be around.

When a GIRL answers " I'm fine " after a few seconds ... she is not at all fine.

When a GIRL stares at you ... she is wondering why you are lying.

When a GIRL lays on your chest ... she is wishing for you to be hers forever.

When a GIRL wants to see you everyday... she wants to be pampered.

When a GIRL says " I love you " ... she means it.

When a GIRL says " I miss you " ... no one in this world can miss you more than that.

Now that you know I know quite a bit about you female folks, I guess this advice will come in quite handy.

Life only comes around once, so make sure u spend it with the right person.

Find a guy ... who calls you beautiful instead of hot.

Devote yourself to a guy who calls you back when you hang up on him.

Cherish the guy who will stay awake just to watch you sleep.

Wait for the guy who ... kisses your forehead.

Adore the guy who wants to show you off to the world when you are in your sweats; with no makeup on.

Cherish a guy who holds your hand in front of his friends,who is constantly reminding you of how much he cares about you and how lucky he is to have you.

And finally a guy who turns to his friends and says, " That's her!! "

All said, Wish y'all the best of LUCK coz I believe y'all need it.

Phad again you brought us something to think about , but i have a question.

What if that guy is a stoker ,and he is good at calling you back when you hang up on him?

Second, i wouldn't want to wake up and the guy is wide awake, starring at me i may think that he is looking for that vessel on my neck to suck some brood.

Whoever decide to kiss my forehead instead of my lips, makes me wonder if he is scared of taking our love to to another level .Third most guys do just grin if his girl plays a good house keeping ,like keeping the place clean and can cook like a hired chef, when he has his buddies around, not just being beautiful in her nature way.

Actually if you ask them, they would tell you that they prefer their girl bare foot, but clean and very pregnant or well dressed in her six inch high heel.

A guy who hold s his girlfriends hand all the time in front of his friends ,sends mixed massages,

He seems possessive, like telling his friend not to even think about it ,that the girl is his, he seems like insecure punk.I prefer someone just show me, that i am his every thing, than drooling all over me ,how much he cares and how lucky he is to have me .

He makes me want to pack him back to his mama , they are some few things i want to take in small dose.

Last but not list i would prefer to see the satisfaction in his eyes instead of telling his friend.."Thats her"

We had a friend from home who came to visit us , he had this girl he just met ,and kept on asking us "isn't she lovely every three minutes?" and i was ready to tell him that tekiwomera matama abiri ,but the girl saved me by telling him that he is starting to embarrass her. So those are the things i don't want to take in overdose

By the way i 'am the most romantic person... don't get me wrong

1. If you are currently with a guy or are trying to hook up with a guy, please don't talk about your past relationship or ex. When you tell a guy you're still good friends with an ex, it translates to, "We still hook up occasionally." He does not need to hear about how great your ex was; it's just not a good conversation starter.

2. Don't try and step between a guy and his buddies. They've been there for him probably longer than you have, so don't try and take him away from his friends. It's okay to want to spend time with him, but there is such a thing as too much. Let him hang out with his friends when he wants to. Give him his space and time to be with his friends.

3. Don't go through a guy's stuff. Guys don't like it when they find out their girl is snooping around. If you're entitled to your privacy, then a guy is entitled to his. He shouldn't have to tell you anything he feels you don't need to know.

4. There needs to be trust. If you feel or think something, just say it; we are not mind readers.

5. Guys aren't as perverted as girls make them out to be. Girls think that all guys are the same. The only thing on their mind, 24/7, is sex. Not true – there are many other things that guys think about besides sex. There's school, sports, video games, and....well, I guess that's about it.

6. What's wrong with giving up compliments every now and then? It's nice to be complimented on the way you look or something every now and then. Why should it be us who always sends flowers? Sending a guy flowers would be a good thing. It lets him know that you love him and that will make his day any day. Guys like to feel appreciated for the things they do for a girl.

7. Believe it when a guy tells you something; don't take it the wrong way. He would not call you beautiful if he didn't think you were. If he calls you beautiful, take it, don't argue about it. If he says you're not fat, BELIEVE him. On a related note, don't tie us up in knots. None of the, "Do you think I'm fat?" or the occasional, "Is she hot?" It's a no-win situation for us and you know it, so don't set us up to fail.

8. When a guy does something wrong, girls expect an apology. The same thing applies for us guys. Just because you think you're always right doesn't mean you don't have to apologize when you do something wrong. An all out apology is not needed, just admit you're wrong and move on; don't keep arguing about it.

9. If a guy offers to pay the bill, LET him. He wants to pay for it. Don't get out of hand, it's only a bill – let him do it if he wants to. Although, it would be nice for a girl to at least offer to do it. It lets him know that she's not using him for his money. However, if he makes you pay, then find another man.

10. If you like a guy, tell him. Guys would like to be asked out too. It's nice when a girl takes the initiative to ask a guy out. It lets us know you're interested and loosens the tension. Also, don't play mid games with us if you want us to ask you out.

Also, a very important side note: I do not know how many times guys need to say this, but being kicked below the belt HURTS! There is never an occasion where it is right to kick a guy there. Seriously, it's not funny. If you're mad, slap him, hit him, scream at him, but NEVER under any circumstance, do you kick him below the belt. That's just dirty play.

Phad - more about boys, the list is endless

Guys go crazy over a girl's smile.

Guys will do anything just to get you to notice him.

Guys need to be reassured often that they're still loved.

Girls are guys' weaknesses.

They need to be tested first before you trust them. But don't let them wait too long.

If a guy tells you about his problems, he just needs someone to listen to him. You don't need to give advice.

They will brag about anything

They love you more than you love them if they are serious in your relationships.

They seek for advice from girls not other guys. Because most guys think alike, so if one guy's confused, then they are all confused.

Any guy could write out a rulebook or advice book for flirting, but not a book about relationships.

No matter how much guys talk about asses and boobs, personality is key.

If a guy looks unusually calm and laid back, he's probably faking it.

If a guy starts to talk seriously, listen to him. It doesn't happen that often, so when it does, you know something's up.

When a guy looks at you for longer than a second, he's definitely thinking something.

Guys like femininity not feebleness.

Guys don't like girls who punch harder than they do.

A guy has more problems than you can see with your naked eyes.

Guys talk about girls more than girls talk about guys.

Guys hate rejection, but they hate being led on even more.

No guy can handle all his problems by his own. He's just too stubborn to admit it

Not all guys are assholes. Just because ONE is a jackass doesn't mean he represents ALL of them
