
A true Love Story

A guy and a girl were speeding on a motorbike down the street.....

Girl: I am scared, slow down plz.....

Guy: No this is fun

Girl: No its not, slow down

Guy: Then tell me you love me

Girl : Fine, I love you, now slow down...

Guy : Now give me a big hug

The girl gives him a hug

Guy : Now take this helmet off me and put it on yourself, its bugging me....

The girl does so...

Girl: Alright now slow down

Guy : I love you babe

In the paper the next day:

A motorbike had crushed into a building bcoz of brake failure, 2 people were on it and only 1 had survived!!

Truth of the matter was, halfway down the road, the guy had realized his brakes had ceased functioning but didnt want to let the girl know.

Instead he had her say she loved him and wanted to feel her hug one last time, then he had her wear his helmet so she could survive an imminent crash, even though it meant he would die.

Everyone deserves someone who would love them that much....dont you??

I hope you find that someone so true.

Peace and One Love.
