What things did you hear, or think about whites, and what, now that you are living in their midst, did you find to be the truth?

The Truth About Westerners generally!

Posted by angiebee - 2007/09/19 04:10

:ohmy:

Did i get disappointed when i saw homeless people in USA!

I have always thought that Africans or third world countries should start agencies that help out the Homeless people in the first worlds. That will be giving back to the good countries that have been giving us all the time.

We can give them things like blankets, boots, candles etc and then get tax breaks!

Any tribe, nation, country. Some of them or all of them. Like at home there was this belief all whites are very rich. When we come out here and we see many poorer than we've ever been. I mean when you are homeless out here you are really without a base. While people could roam the streets back home, but almost all of them, if they wanted to could go to their villages where they have or could be given land and live from that. In the same way, we used to think that whites are weak, that anyone could beat them up. Then at the University hostel there was a boy, a friend, but wherever he found me he just wanted to wrestle with me. And Oh my goodness, was he strong!! Maybe he'd heard that blacks are strong and wanted to check it out on me.
