Chogm village

In existence since May, this year of Chogm, the proprietor of this Wakaliga based restaurant and bar reasons that it will be for the future generations to see and know they missed out on a special event in Uganda. Besides, he reasons that Chogm is a good thing to call your business because it is a concept that will stick in people's minds. "Besides there is no one else in this country that owns a Chogm village except me, not even the richest men in this country," boasts the proprietor.

Sure enough the village is living up to its expectations per the proprietor since some guests are specifically attracted to the bar because of its brand name.
