INTO THE WILDS/Jon Krakauer

This book is the powerful tale of 22-year-old Christopher McCandless, freshly graduated from college with a promising future ahead who instead walked out of his privileged life and into the wild in search of adventure. What happened to him on the way transformed this young wanderer into an enduring symbol for countless people. Was McCandless a heroic adventurer or a naive idealist, a rebellious 1990s Thoreau or another lost American son, a fearless risk taker or a tragic figure who wrestled with the precious balance between man and nature.

Who can forget Animal Farm?

That was one of my favourites while in my early Secondary school years.

And it actually was on the Junior level English Literature syllabus,though I am not sure whether it still is.

Apparently there is a Luganda version titled

"Amaka ga ba Wansolo".

Both are really good, I must add.

However,the author was a Brit,named George Orwell,and it was not an AWS.
